CHARLOTTE TO HOST ASL ALL STAR GAME

NEW YORK, N.Y. - Carolina Professional Soccer, which will begin play in the American Soccer League in 1981 in Charlotte, North Carolina, will be the official host of the 2nd Annual American Soccer League All Star Game, to be played on Saturday, June 21st, at Memorial Stadium in Charlotte.

Carolina Professional Soccer, the ASL's newest franchise, will adopt a unique twist for the All Star affair, as a select group of ASL stars will participate in a match versus Yehud Hapoel of the Israeli First Division, adding a distinct international flavor to the contest. Yehud has currently finished third in the Israeli League, and feature a number of players from the National Team of Israel, notably goalkeeper Ayreh Haviv. Yehud are coached by Sevic Seltzer, who has had previous experience as a player in the American pro ranks, and who will lead his charges versus the ASL elite on June 21st.

CPS, which is in the process of selecting a team name for its 1981 side from over 10,000 applications received in a local contest, have been active in the Charlotte community, promoting all levels of soccer and conducting clinics and camps prior to their actual on-field operation. The franchise also introduced the first professional soccer game to ever be played in Charlotte, when they sponsored a special exhibition match between the Miami Americans and Pennsylvania Stoners in early April of this year.
