ASL ALL STARS TOPPLE ISRAELIS

NEW YORK, NY - The American Soccer League All Stars trounced top Israeli side Yehud Hapoel, 3-0, on Saturday night in the 2nd Annual ASL All Star Game, played before over 12,000 fans at Memorial Stadium in Charlotte, North Carolina. The All Star contest was hosted by Carolina Professional Soccer, the ASL's newest franchise, which will begin on-field operation in 1981, and the turnout set a record for ASL exhibition and All Star matches.

Yehud, which finished third in the 1979-80 Israeli championship, were outclassed by the ASL's elite from the opening kickoff. Ian Filby, of the Sacramento Gold, the ASL leading scorer in 1979, set the pace for the All Stars, and he was voted Offensive MVP for the game. Filby opened up the Yehud defense with brilliant individual runs down the right flank, two of which produced goals in the first thirty minutes. In the 29th minute, a solo effort by Filby on the right, freed Miami's Manu Sanon in front of the Yehud goal, and the Haitian striker neatly slipped home Filby's pass for a 1-0 ASL lead. Less than one minute later, Columbus Magic's giant defender, Daniel Mammana rose above the Israeli's defense to head home another cross from Filby to give the ASL a 2-0 advantage which they carried into halftime.

With keepers Scott Manning of Pennsylvania and Jamil Canal of New York combining for the shutout, the ASL wrapped up the scoring in the second half, as this year's leding scorer, Mal Roche, drove home a shot after taking a beautiful pass from Sacramento midfielder or Willie Munguia with only one minute remaining in play. In addition to Filby and Mammana, who was selected Defensive MVP, California midfielder Don Tobin played a superb game, and was responsible for orchestrating the attack which kept Yehud pinned in their own half for much of the game.

In the only League matches of the week, which was on an abbreviated schedule due to the All Star affair, New York United split a pair of games, defeating the Cleveland Cobras, 2-1, on Wednesday night at Shea Stadium, and falling to the Miami Americans, 2-1, at Shea on Sunday, versus Cleveland, United left back Redmond Lane assisted on first half goals by Joe Fink, in the 27th minute, and Gil Mardarescu, in the 36th, as New York withstood a goal by Andy Chapman of the Cobras after 50 minutes to hold on for the win. On Sunday, Miami received scores by Charlie Greene in the 21st minute, and Ray Vigliotti, recently named to the U.S. National team, in the 68th minute to defeat United, whose only goal came from a penalty kick by Mardarescu with only two minutes left to play. New York has now moved three points ahead of Cleveland into third place in the NAtional Conference, which is topped by Columbus Magic, while Sacramento Gold continue to lead in the American Conference.
