CHIEFS SIGN THREE-TIME ALL AMERICA

Head coach and general manager Vic Rouse of the Atlanta Chiefs announced the signing of three-time NCAA All-America soccer star, Alec Papadakis of Hartwick College, Oneonta, New York.

If the name sounds familiar, Alec is the younger brother of Nick, also a Hartwick All-American for two years and presently about to begin his fourth season with the Chiefs.

Alec's credentials show him as one of the top scorers in the history of Hartwick, registering 58 goals in his four years of competition. 1970 was his best with 24, plus eight assists which helped guide the Wick into the semi-finals of the NCAA tourney before losing to St. Louis.

He is a versatile performer capable of playing at all positions, which he did while in college.

At 5-9, 155, the 23-year old rookie was born in Athens, Greece and became a Canadian citizen in 1965. His family lives in Atlanta and he plans to attend law school here.

Alec will be wearing number 12 on his Chiefs uniform.
