FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

FALCONS TO END SEASON
AGAINST ST. LOUIS STARS

TORONTO--The Toronto Falcons will write the final chapter to their 1968 North American Soccer League season this Friday night when they host the St. Louis Stars in a match that could decide the Gulf Division title.

Falcons, members of the Lakes Division, are guaranteed third place in their division, but the Stars can wind up first, second or third. Kickoff will be 8:30 p.m. at Varsity Stadium.

St. Louis is battling the Kansas City Spurs and the Houston Stars. Houston and St. Louis meet tonight in the Astrodome and that game should eliminate one of the threats to the Spurs.

Toronto will attempt to level its record at 13-13-6 Friday night while St. Louis will come to town with either a 13-12-6 record, 12-13-6 or 12-12-7, depending on whether it wins, loses or ties against the Houston Stars.

The game will be the first and only meeting between the two teams this season as well as the 32nd game of the NASL schedule for both clubs. If the Stars win or tie against Houston, the game against the Falcons will take on the importance of a championship match for St. Louis since it trails K.C. by 12 points.
